VOL. XXII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1894.

NO. 50

WILLIAMSBURG, WHITLEY COUNTY.

A nice rain fell in almost every part of the county Sunday.

Miss Ida Delaney, who has been visiting her brother, returned to her home in Ironton, O., Tuesday night.

Rev. C. S. Marklin preached at Corbin last Sunday. Rev. J. A. Jones filled the pulpit at the M. E. church here.

Will Finley fell last Thursday and struck his head on a stone and for some time it was thought he would die, but he is out again.

Judges Alcorn and Boyd, Messrs. John Hays, of Barbourville, and H. M. Gorin, of Jellico, are the visiting attorneys here now.

A vicious cow hocked W. L. Moore's little boy Tuesday morning. He is not seriously hurt, but badly scared and considerably bruised.

Prof. J. C. Ryan, of Holden, Mo., is here visiting his parents. Mrs. Susan Siler, of Sharpaville, Ind., is here visiting relatives. It is the first time she has been here in 33 years.

Circuit court began last Monday with R. D. Hill special judge. Very little business has been done so far, except to dispose of the misdemeanor cases. Judge Heiskell, of Knoxville, was here Tuesday.

The Misses O'Mara very elegantly entertained their young friends of the town last Monday evening. A large crowd was present and no pains spared to make everyone spend a delightful evening, which they certainly did.

Mrs. J. L. Whitehead and children and Miss Nellie Parker are visiting in Mt. Vernon. Misses Nora and Fannie Hill spent a few days in London. Mrs. J. T. C. Noe, of Springfield, is here visiting her parents. Miss Mary Rout is visiting at Capt. Ed Arthur's. Miss Auntie Kelley, of Knoxville, is visiting Miss Alma Ooley. James Sutton has been elected town marshal. Prof. Gill Thompson gave a musical last Friday at the courthouse.

Last Monday night Sampson Bolton shot and killed Blue Durham in his watermelon patch. Bolton says he heard some parties stealing his melons and went out and ordered them to halt; they ran, he aimed to fire over them in the air and scare them, but the gun did not fire until after he had lowered it, thinking it was only going to snap. The shooting occurred at 9 and Durham died at 12. There were two other parties with him. Bolton gave himself up Tuesday morning.

Monday afternoon, Hon. John D. White, of Clay, and David G. Colson opened the Congressional campaign for this district here. Mr. White says he will not submit his claims to the primary to be held Sept. 29, because same is illegal and that Mr. Colson had manipulated the machinery to suit himself. The entire proceedings were not republican and contrary to justice. He censured the State Central Committee and the district committee for being made a tool of by one man; says he is for the absolute repeal of the internal revenue law and for carrying out the principles laid down by the republican party in its platform. Mr. White says he is a candidate till the November election, subject to the people.

P., Primroy, Campbell county, Tenn. For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, Druggist, Stanford, Ky.

LANCASTER, CARRARD COUNTY.

Next Monday will be county court and a large crowd is expected in town.

The union services will be held at the Baptist church Sunday night, when Elder George Gowan, will preach the sermon.

The public school opened Monday with a large attendance. Miss Eliza Lusk is principal and Mrs. Mary Anderson assistant.

The picnic at Hammock Saturday was attended by a large crowd. Only one candidate for office was present, and a very enjoyable time was spent.

The stock of confectioneries, fixtures, &c., of E. A. Pascoe, was sold at auction Monday. His wife became the purchaser and will continue the business.

The prettiest box of cut flowers we ever saw, was fixed up by Miss Fannie Bishop, the first of the week. She has the largest green house in Central Kentucky.

It is Lawyer Lewis Walker, now if you please. This accomplished and accommodating young gentleman passed a first-class examination and was granted license to practice to-day.

The time lost on the safe at the National Bank got out of shape the first of the week and refused to open. An expert was dispatched from Cincinnati and opened it in less time than it takes to tell it.

Lee Floyd killed another negro named Jim Sloan in Lower Garrard Tuesday night. The trouble was over Floyd's wife. Floyd escaped and has not been arrested. The grand jury has indicted Floyd for murder and from all accounts it is a pretty bad case.

Circuit court has been in session all week and a large number of Commonwealth cases been disposed of. In the case against Eb. Doty for killing Charley White, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty and Doty was discharged. Work on the civil business commences to-day.

Gen. Currie, commander of the Kentucky Knights of Pythias, wired the local band Tuesday, that satisfactory rates to Washington had been made with the railroads and wanted the band to go. The contracts with the professionals that were to go had been canceled, so Gen. Currie, will have to get another band. None of the "high-cock-a-looms" have seemed to know what they wanted to do, since the trip was first talked of. No one will go here on a similar occasion.

MIDDLEBURG, CASEY COUNTY.

The drought was slightly broken by a good shower of rain here Sunday night.

V. B. Coleman fell from a wagon a few days ago and was considerably bruised.

The crowd that witnessed the ordination of baptism here Friday was variously estimated at from 400 to 600.

W. P. Keeney is confined to his bed with fever. Miss Bertha Jones is also thought to be taking the fever. Mrs. Bevick, who has been confined to her bed several weeks with that disease, remains about the same, with no indications for the better.

Miss Allie McDaniel, who was thought to be doing well, after an illness of several weeks, with typhoid fever, got much worse Thursday and died Friday night. She came here from the Masonic Home, at Louisville, to visit the families of J. M. Durham and Dr. J. T. Wesley and took sick shortly after arriving here. She had no relatives here, but a nurse was sent her by the Home, besides she was kindly waited on by the ladies of the town, and especially by Mrs. J. M. Durham, at whose house she died. Her remains were buried Saturday in the cemetery West of town.

The meeting at the Baptist church closed Friday. It was the most interesting meeting held here for many years and the good accomplished can hardly be estimated. The large house was filled to overflowing at each meeting and frequently many had to remain out doors. Everybody seemed to regret that the meeting could not continue indefinitely, but Bro. Sallee had an appointment to begin a meeting at Rocky Ford, Sunday, and wishing to visit his father and mother at Somerset, before going there, he was compelled to close here. There were 15 additions to the church, and they with the converts of Rev. H. M. Shonse's meetings at Carpenter's Creek and at the school-house above town, were baptized in the river here, in the presence of the largest concourse of people ever assembled here on a similar occasion.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Mrs. Adele Ronalds, a wealthy widow of 70 years, was married in New York the other day to Charles Reglid, aged 30.

Mrs. Clara Quinn, of Columbus, O., has asked for divorce from her husband. Her grounds are that he is too filthy to live with.

The next reunion of the Kentucky Mexican veterans will be held at Lawrenceburg, Sept. 25th. Capt. McBrayer has written to Gen. Landram that there will be an effort to get the railroads to reduce the rate of travel to one-half to all veterans who attend the meeting.

All are invited and urged to be present. It is expected that Gens. Buell, Buckner and Williams will be present and that Gen. Hobson and Capt. McBrayer will give their recollections of the battle of Buena Vista.

At the request of Judge Sandley, Hon. John Sam Owsley, Jr., Commonwealth's attorney, delivered the charge to the grand jury Monday. The address was dignified and impressive and served to show that our able and estimable young representative of the Commonwealth is worthy of the important position he occupies. It is a pleasure to both attorneys and litigants to witness the admirable manner in which Judge Sandley conducts the business of his court. His promptness and expedition show his determination to do his duty, and at the same time his courtesy to attorneys, litigants and witnesses, jurors and the officers of the court is proverbial.

Miss Alice Walton, of Cincinnati, is the guest of Miss Mattie Walker. Miss Kate Simpson visited her grandmother, Mrs. Moses Collier, this week. Mr. Brown Anderson returned to Nicholasville Monday. Miss Delia Hughes has returned from a visit to Hustonville. Miss Carrie Woods entertained a few friends Tuesday evening. Mrs. Lizzie Denny is visiting her niece, Mrs. Bolling, at Point Burnside. Miss Katie Craig, the popular visitor of Miss Jane Lackey, returned Tuesday to New Orleans. Miss Lillie Grant entertained Tuesday evening in honor of Misses Eliza Anderson and Eva Graut. Kenneth Pacemaker had the good fortune to receive a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea, kindly sent him three months ago. He has since been perfectly cured and is now in full health. The small bottle cured them all and he had no let which he gave to Geo. W. Baker, a prominent merchant of the place, Lewiston, N. C., and it cured him of the same complaint. When troubled with dysentery, cholera, colic or any malady give this remedy, a small dose will be more than pleased with the result. The praise that naturally follows its introduction and use has made it very popular. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, Druggist, Stanford, Ky.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was by her doctor she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two days ago Dr. Newell discovered a condition which cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 137 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result every remedy and was given up for dead. Newell discovered a condition which cured him. He is naturally thankful. It is such results of which these samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at A. R. Penny's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

The new Christian church at Livingston is nearly completed. The structure is commodious and handsome, proving an elegant addition to that thriving village.

A Teacher's Association was held at Buckeye last Friday. By the way where is the library for the teachers of Rockcastle? A fund was started a year ago for this purpose.

Parties for the children have been in order this week. They were entertained by Mrs. J. N. Nesbitt Monday evening, by Mrs. C. C. Williams Tuesday afternoon and by Mrs. W. M. Weber Wednesday evening.

Mr. James Cox, the well known railroad carpenter, tells of a snake swallowing a mole, near Gravel Switch, a short time since. He says the mole cut its way out through the snake's side and dug into the ground and disappeared.

The daily papers contained an account of the murder of John Merritt by miners in Mexico last week. It is thought to be a brother of James Maret, of this place. He disappeared in the West 20 years ago and no tidings were ever had of him.

A gentleman, who once lived here, remarked that after an absence of 10 years he found the sidewalks of Mt. Vernon unimproved. Cannot the city fathers give attention to this matter and extend the sidewalks at least one quarter of a mile out each street?

Stewart, the "lumber king," of Wildie, was with us yesterday.

—Lives of great men oft remind us. Honest men won't stand a chance, The more we work there grow behind us, Bigger patches on our pants.

On our pants once new and glossy, Now are stripes of different hue, All because subscribers linger And won't pay us what is due.

Then let us all be up and doing, Send your mite, however small, Or when the snows of winter strike us, We shall have no pants at all.

—From J. Richard Bush's Plagiary.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

FOR CONGRESS.....JAS. B. MCCREARY
For County Judge.....JAS. WALKER GIVENS
" Clerk.....G. B. COOPER
" Attorney.....J. B. PAXTON
" Sheriff.....T. D. NEWLAND
" Assessor.....E. D. KENNEDY
" Jailer.....G. W. DEBORD

EXCEPT for the vaporings of men who are only democrats when they think it is to their interest to be, and who are really without fixed party affiliation, the republicans of this county would never have had the courage to even consider the question of nominating candidates for local offices. The democracy has put up an excellent ticket and there is really no excuse for the clamor of the soreheads, who by loud talking and betting have led the republicans to believe that their name is legion. The man who can not support the ticket which heads this column is not worthy of the name of a democrat, nor is he worthy of any consideration if after voting in the primary he refuses to support the whole ticket. This is no time for democrats to kick out of the traces, and no true one will. The party can afford, however, to be rid of all the barnacles, who claim to be democrats but are such for revenue only, and if they choose to go square over to the enemy, merry go with them.

In providing for a constitutional convention, the New York Legislature gave the members so much time to complete their work, after which they were to get no pay. The time for pay ends Sept. 13, but the work is not near complete. It will be interesting to see if a quorum can be maintained after that. Unlike most constitutional conventions, this one has done something worthy of praise. It has given female suffrage a black eye in the State for a long time to come.

A NUMBER of Lehigh Valley conductors have brought suits in Pennsylvania, which will likely be the cause of bringing the chiefs of orders to a greater responsibility and keep them from issuing orders to strike except for the enforcement of undoubted justice. The suits are against the grand chief of the order of railway conductors, who ordered an unsuccessful strike, and the amounts asked are $200 each, what they lost by striking.

The Clark county republicans instructed for Editor John L. Booley, of the Winchester Sun, for Congress to fill the unexpected term of Mr. List. We would halloo and shout over the honor accorded a Lincoln county man, but for the fact that the entry is a little off in politics, and the further fact that we want to see his townsmen and friend, Judge W. M. Beckner, elected to the vacancy.

DURING the progress of a funeral in Arkansas, the object of the service began to kick and continued to do so till he was liberated from his wooden overcoat. He was doubtless disgusted with the eulogiums paid him and we opine many other corpses would kick over just the same matter, but for circumstances over which they have no control.

The London Echo issued a day earlier, ostensibly for the purpose of denying our allegation that the republicans are susceptible to a money argument. At the same, Editor Dyche is very doubtful of the candidacy of the man with the many thousands and is fearful that he may be able to work the voters like he used the committee.

John D. White said in his opening speech at Williamsburg, in advocacy of his candidacy for Congress, that he would not submit to the manipulation of the party machinery in the interest of one man, and that he was a candidate till the November election. Hurrah for John D! He is the bully boy with the glass eye.

If all the wives in the 7th district were like Mrs. Mack Abraham, of Frankfort, Billy Breckinridge would have but few to hear him orate or there would be an epidemic of widowers. Mrs. Abraham did not want her husband to go to hear Willie speak, but he persisted and went. She took poison and died.

Gov. McCleary and Capt. Stone are the only members of the Kentucky delegation, who are left in Washington. The others are at home fixing up their fences. Gov. McCleary is anxious to come, but important business connected with foreign affairs, detained him at the capital.

We are indebted to Secretary Loving W. Gaines, editor of the Elkhorn Progress, for a copy of the proceedings of the last Kentucky Press Association. It is nicely printed and in addition to a report of the business transacted, the excellent papers read before the body are given.

It is almost as easy to tell who struck Billy Patterson as to find out whether Senator Blackburn called Senator Hill "a traitorous dog" or if Congressman Montgomery planted his pedal in Savoyard's stomach. The latter story has a very unpersuasive odor about it.

—It is amusing to note the maner in which the disposition to fret, kick and squirm is manifested among suffering humanity. The grumbler finds fault with every act of his fellow man, and even criticizes the acts of God. But he finally realizes the fact that the world still moves, regardless of his unkind and ignorant thrusts. Let him take the beam out of his own eye. It is either too hot or too cold, too wet or too dry. An instance, in point, occurred Monday morning. Judge Shelton said to a farmer, "We had a fine rain." The response came, "It rained too fast to do much good."
—Some men seemed to have voted the democratic ticket in the past for revenue only, and not for admiration of its principles. There are many sulking in camp and openly express their intention to desert the ranks; not because of the doctrine adhered to, but some because they didn't get a share of public patronage, and others because of conflicting interests and opinions, in local affairs, with which democracy has nothing to do. The Jews crucified the Savior with the same kind of a spirit and it has been handed down to the present. We admonish them, in all kindness, not to depart from their faith, which is founded on the true principles of government.

BRODHEAD, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Mr. Thomas McRoberts went to Stanford Tuesday and brought back with him a wagon load of melons.
—Bro. S. Collier, the pastor, assisted by Bro. C. E. Powell, of Glasgow, began a series of meetings at the Christian church here Saturday night. Bro. Powell has been doing the preaching up to this time. He is a young man about 23 years of age and the writer pronounces him a first class preacher for that age. He seems to be very zealous and earnest in his work. Bro. Collier is a devoted Christian minister and we predict for him a good meeting and earnestly pray God's blessing upon their labors in this town. Bro. Pike filled his appointment at Gillean church Saturday and Sunday.
—I see an article written from my town published in last Friday's issue of the Mountain Echo, "Returned to the Fold" and signed "Subscriber." The writer begins by asking the editor if he did not remember last Spring that there was a republican convention in Rockcastle for the purpose of nominating candidates for county officers, and he says in the county judge's race there were three candidates, namely: Lair, White and Bethurum. Neither would yield, consequently Bethurum was the choice of the people. After the election he says there was a great deal of dissatisfaction in the republican ranks and adds "I myself was one of the soreheads, and I declared I would bolt, but after thinking over the matter, I have come to the conclusion that we have seen enough of the leaders in the democratic party to convince any thinking man to never again cast a democratic vote," and then he appeals to his fellow republicans who claim to be a little sore to study well their interests. He says, "by uniting we have the 8th Congressional district at our command," &c., and then he says "since the convention I have visited Mr. Bethurum's home and found him a perfect gentleman. I never was treated with more hospitality in all my life than while at his house." He concludes by saying, "Mr. Editor, if you have got any medicine for soreheads, please let us have it." Now, I wish to say to the gentleman that I can not see the propriety of his letter nor of the request he makes of the editor of the Mountain Echo, for he acknowledges that Mr. Bethurum has a remedy and that one trip to the doctor has cured him. If it is really true that Mr. Bethurum can cure a man that is affected with the sorehead as had as that subscriber seems to have had it, by applying his balm of Gildead only once, I can not understand why he would ask for a medicine to be brought from London, when he can find both the doctor and medicine in and with Mr. Bethurum, for I suppose Mr. B. has plenty of the same medicine on hand, for Mr. Thomas Austin, the U. S. D. C., told me that he had left 20-odd barrels of medicine at Mr. Bethurum's warehouse and that he had the key and that when he went back to see about it 'twas all gone except one piece of a barrel. So we feel safe in saying that if the medicine will have the same effect on all afflicted with the sorehead that it had on Mr. R. L. T., the subscriber at Brodhead, that Mr. Bethurum will be able to effect a cure on all the soreheads in this county, without going out of the county after Dr. Dyche's medicine.
—Bicycle riding is all the go in our town with both sexes.
—You can talk about your fashions, Of its advocates and "loomers," But the loveliest things yet to be found Are Brodhead girls in "bloomers." —SKETAW.

THE Harrodsburg Democrat tells of a sucker, who answered an advertisement of a bill posting association, which offered $25 a day to its members. The sucker sent his $1 and was informed that he was now a full fledged member of the order, entitled to get $15 a day for his work, should he find anyone willing to pay that price. Truly the fools are not yet all deceased.

THE game of ball between the Stanford and McKinney clubs here Tuesday afternoon resulted in a defeat of the visitors by a score of 15 to 14. They claimed the game but under a recently adopted rule Umpire Will Embry decided against them. Hendricks and Sibold were the battery for the home club while Johnson and Dinwiddie pitched and caught for the McKinneys.

It is mighty hard to keep a good man down; for like a cat when thrown in the water, they will always bob serenely up.

B. G. Pennington, of Middlesboro, is an example in question. The Times says he is in Louisville in the interest of a big excursion of merchants of Eastern Kentucky and Southwestern Virginia, which is to be run to that city in September. He expects to bring about 500 to the city, and is anxious to secure the cooperation of the local business men.

AFTER examining the reports of the turnpike officers as to the cost of maintenance, Mr. John Bright finds that the 140 miles in this county, cost $20 to $30 per mile yearly, exclusive of the pay of toll gate keepers, which brings the cost of the Danville and Crab Orchard pike up to $100 per mile. He also finds that the 375 miles of dirt road in the county, costs the county $4 a mile for hauling, plowing, lumber, &amp;c. The work is performed by the men who live on them, for which they get no pay.

TWO years ago, when Hon. D. B. Edmonson was a member of the Legislature, he sent the editor of this paper, some wheat from the office of the commissioner of agriculture, to be distributed among those of our farmers who might care for it. Mr. G. C. Givens got a quart and sowed it and raised two bushels, which he sowed last fall and reaped therefrom this year 50 full bushels. We did not know the variety, and he has not been to find out, but he says it is the largest and heaviest grain he ever saw and that the heads average 75 grains. A number of others got a similar quality at the same time Mr. Givens did. Can they report as well?

EXAGGERATED reports of typhoid fever at Shelby City and vicinity are being circulated, the statement being made that there are 35 cases there. Quite a number are down with the fearful disease, but nothing like that given above.

THE dispatch sent from London to the Louisville and Eastern papers stating that the body of a dissolute woman had been found in Clay county nailed to a cross, is as might have been suspected, a fake. It is now said that the only basis of the crucifixion story is that a bundle of old rags done up in the shape of a woman was found nailed to a tree.

DRY.—We are indebted to Mrs. Alice Newland for a dispatch at the close of the polls at Crab Orchard Wednesday, which read, "Total vote 86; dry 45; wet 41; majority dry 4." The election was as quiet as a funeral, and while the majority is not as large as we expected it to be, it is sufficient to settle the question for three years in favor of prohibition.

THE cow boy evangelist has been heard from again. It will be remembered that he was here a few years ago with a beautiful young woman, whom he made a specialty of marrying in every town that he found business dull. His name was given as Rice. His latest escapade was at Atlantic City, N. J., where he and his wife were ejected from a hotel. In the operation, Rice kicked a door down and his wife threw a Bible into the eye of the proprietor, nearly putting it out, besides putting it in mourning.

E. C. WALTON, who is at the London Fair, writes: A large crowd is in attendance and horses are here from "Cape Cod to Kalamazoo." There was a day when a common horse could win here but that is a thing of the past. Those who come now expecting that they will strike a "soft snap" will go home poorer but wiser. A new amphitheatre has been built and other improvements have been made to the grounds since last year. The London Fair should enter the Blue Grass circuit next year.

THE mysterious disappearance of Chas. B. McChord, of Boyle, is the subject of much concern to his friends there and in Clark. He recently took a course at the Crab Orchard Keeley Cure for the tobacco habit and on the 12th was on a visit to his mother at Winchester. He went with her to church that night, but left her at the door with some casual remark, and since then nothing has been heard from him. His family relations have been most pleasant and his financial affairs are all right. It is feared that he wandered off while temporarily insane.

CLARENCE HARDIN, of Crab Orchard, was down at Rowland Wednesday and after imbibing pretty freely of the liquor dispensed in that ungodly town, imagined that the railroad belonged to him. He demanded a ticket of Miss Susie Lassley and upon being refused started into the office to get it any way. Mr. George Pope stopped him and he drew a knife and made a whack at him cutting the ball of one of his fingers off. Then Mr. Pope went for him with his fist and in a few moments so changed his physiognomy that his grand-mother would not have recognized him. In fact he put the worst mug on him you ever saw. Marshal Martin arrested Hardin and he was sent here to be jailed in default of $100 bail, but a friend came to his rescue and saved him the further mortification of incarceration.

—An Indiana preacher, who held forth at Turnersville, asserted that the thief, who repented on the cross and went with the Savior to paradise, was baptized previous to his crucifixion. He had no authority upon which to base his statement, as the scriptures are silent on the subject, but he defied any one to prove that he was not baptized.

—Rev. Marcus Lever, the converted jew, who was posted in the Anderson News as a swindler and a board bill jumper, comes back in the Louisville Times to say that the editor is a lying rogue and that the fabrication was inspired by "malice of representative Campbellites, on account of my remarks on the Christian church, which roused the animosity of the so-called Christians."

—The Winchester Democrat says: One of the greatest revivals ever known in Clark county, was the two weeks meeting which closed at the Christian church at Ford, on last Wednesday night with 83 additions, 58 of the number by confession. Gray haired fathers and mothers, with their sons and daughters, came into the kingdom. The meeting was conducted by S. M. Bernard, of Louisville, who did the preaching in an able manner.

Bobbitt in Bloody Harlan!

To the Editor of the Interior Journal:
HARLAN C. H., Aug. 19.—I departed from Crab Orchard Saturday, 11th, came to the ex-Magic City, Middlesboro, where we had a glorious rain that night which was very refreshing to the corn and vegetables growing in the streets of that modern Byzantium.

Sunday morning we rode in the cars to the Gap, where the pinnacle towers almost to the clouds. From hence we were transferred in hacks to the opposite side of the great mountain, where the old wheel mill turned and reminded me of Benedict Arnold, who when a boy used to ride a similar wheel, while the other boys, whom he afterward led in the Revolution, looked on in dismay while young Benedict was first on top of the wheel and then submerged beneath the waves and then came dripping to the top again. Judge Tinsley said he went to mill here.

There was quite a crowd of us and many of us walked over the mountain, a mile and a half, to view the sublime scenery. One gentleman, who appeared to be a mountaineer, thinking that I was probably walking because I had no seat in the hack, said before the whole crowd ladies and all: "Get in here old gentleman and have my seat I will walk." I said: "No I thank you sir, I am no old gentleman, I thank you for your rude politeness, I excuse your great mistake in regard to my age and respectfully decline your invitation." This created quite a laugh. Judge Tinsley, Col. Dishman, N. B. Hays, J. Smith Hays, James Black, of Barberville, Editor Dyche, of London, and quite a number of others more or less noted were along, among whom I must not forget to mention the brilliant O. V. Niley, of Pineville. After going through Shawnee, and the beautiful Powell's Valley where I saw many herds that reminded me of my own, we arrived at Hagan, Virginia. Here I felt I was on sacred ground.

Quite a crowd struck out across the leafy stone mountain for Harlan, most of us on foot, I from choice, the others from necessity. Among these a beautiful young lady. When we reached the half way place the crowd all halted for a breathing spell and called loudly for a speech, but I told them: "I had plenty of gas but my wind was exhausted." This caused a laugh that awoke the mocking echoes of the mountain, and we moved on. I saw a great monarch of the forest from a 150 to 200 feet high lying prone upon the earth. The axe of the rude mountaineer had done the work and the great monarch of the wood was left to return to the mother earth from whence he sprang. I saw the celebrated Brierfield precinct, Catrons Creek, the ivy thicket from which the bloody assassins shot Judge James Middleton. All these were familiar to me from the trials of the assassins in Whitley by change of venue.

I met some of those bloody men, they appeared glad to see me and gave me a high recommendation to their friends. Several of them have spoken to me about their more recent cases. There is but one of those four murderers in the penitentiary. He is there for life. We sent another but the court of appeals turned him out by granting him a new trial. This was an awful outrage but then you know that is what the people pay the judges $5,000 a year for. It is remarked all over Harlan county that they never convicted another of the four bloody murderers, after I quit the case. I saw on Catron's Creek the two trees from behind which Wils Howard and — Turner fought their celebrated duel. Both wounded, Turner killed; bullet marks still there on the trees.

Col. George Turner, of Harlan, says the ladies here are such excellent marksmen that they can set up an oak board edgewise and at the distance of 25 yards split it wide open!

I am stopping with Col. D. H. Smith, his wife an elegant lady, his daughter beautiful, everything good to eat and more than 100 bushels of ripe grapes in his vineyard. I am pleased with the people and delighted with Harlan town! I shall certainly include this county in my circuit. I could write a book about what I have seen since I left home.

I saw a man here to-day to whom I loaned a horse to go to mill in Lincoln 21 years ago. He was telling the crowd about it. A triple reputation preceded me here, a criminal lawyer, an orator and a fighting man. You ought to hear the tales they tell here about my whipping big men in the Stanford courthouse.

He is no place to choose a wife. They are so beautiful I never could tell which one I'd rather have. They asked me what age I wanted. I said anywhere between 16 and 60. A widow here, who has a widow daughter, and a singleton one, told her daughters that that being the case she would inform them she was in the fight. I called upon all of them to-day. They all live at the same house.

I underestimated the magnitude of the giant forest trees, some chestnut trees here make a thousand rails—often 150 to the cut. These mountain trees are loaded within and without with inexhaustible mines of coal and timber for ages. Plenty of bear here. A prominent lawyer has three traps set on his farm.

Quite a sensation was created one day last week, by an attempt, as some say, to shoot the judge on the bench, but although I sat near him I did not notice it. The judge, however, had the sheriff summon 20 men to come into the court-house to keep the peace. The man was under the influence of liquor. They have prohibition here, but plenty of whisky also, and the preacher said today in his sermon, it did no good. His sermon was for temperance and warning us of the danger of the Catholics.

There are too many foreigners coming here, there must be some restriction placed upon immigration; anarchy, nihilism, communism, socialism, all come across the ocean. Jefferson was right when he wished the broad Atlantic a flame of fire to separate us from Europe. What grand mountains! What a glorious country! Those stupendous mountains are the fastnesses where nature in her wild, savage grandeur has entrenched herself and stubbornly defies the slowly advancing march of civilization. Her fortresses here are impregnable.
